FORAKER PULLS EVIDENCE OF PATRONAGE

Replies to Roosevelt's Denial That Offices Have Been Given Out To Help Taft In Ohio.

SAYS THERE ARE A HUNDRED SUCH CASES

Pierpont Morgan Comes From New York To Listen To Aldrich Argument.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Rising to a question of personal privilege, Foraker today replied in the Senate to the denial by Roosevelt of the charges that he used federal patronage for the purpose of influencing the Republican national contest.

The senator prefaced his argument by reference to the Ohio situation in a letter of Roosevelt to William Dudley Foulke published today. He produced correspondence relating to the appointment of Charles H. Bryson, whose nomination as postmaster at Athens, Ohio, withheld temporarily, for the alleged reason that Bryson had given an interview in Washington, expressing the opinion that Taft was losing ground in the Ohio contest. The correspondence showed Bryson had stood his ground and that his declaration of political independence had resulted in an appointment from the White House making the appointment.

Communications on the subject were between Representative Douglas of Ohio and Bryson. In a very temperate manner Foraker commenced on the case, but insisted that the records clearly showed an attempt to coerce Bryson and that his fearless stand had been responsible for his retention by the president. The senator said it was no exaggeration to say that there were a hundred cases in Ohio where appointments had been made for political purposes only, but there are few where documentary evidence can be produced.

Senator Aldrich, of Rhode Island, chairman of the committee on finance, opened the debate in the Senate on his bill to provide emergency currency. He was listened to with great attention by Republicans and Democrats alike, while in the galleries there was a large audience, among others, J. Pierpont Morgan, who remained through the delivery of the speech.

Dewey defended the course of the secretary of the treasury in depositing public funds in New York banks. A brief but fiery speech by Leake of New Jersey, in which he outlined opposition to Bryan as a candidate for the presidency, relieved somewhat the monotony of debate on the Indian appropriation bill in the house today. Leake charged Bryan with taking the big stick from the president and leaving the president only a big slipper, and charged the Democratic House with having usurped the right of free action by delegates at the Denver convention by not holding Bryan in advance. His remarks were greeted by hisses from the Democratic side.

Considerable progress was made with the Indian bill, which was amended so that the commissioner of Indian affairs, before he carries out the policy of noninterference with the Indian schools, shall investigate the question fully and report to the house at the next session. Another amendment restored the appropriation for the Indian schools at Fort Lewis, Colo., and another at Fort Huachuca, Ariz., was passed. Consideration of the bill was not concluded when the house adjourned.

By a vote of 12 to 5, one member absent, the House committee on naval affairs today rejected the president's urgent recommendation that congress at this session authorize the building of four battleships, at a total cost of $38,000,000, and by a unanimous vote included authorization for the construction of two, to cost $9,500,000 each, to be of the Delaware type.

Representative Hobson, Democrat, announced after the committee meeting that he intended making a minority report, recommending the authorization for four battleships. Preference of the committee stood in favor of four battleships, but the voting attitude of the majority was expressed by Foss, of Illinois, chairman of the committee, when he said:

"Experience has shown that it is more profitable in the end to recommend in the beginning what you know the House will stand for. A recommendation for four could not be put through this session."

The naval appropriation bill, as amended and agreed to by the committee, carries a total appropriation of $101,000,000 for navy establishment for the next fiscal year, but $24,000,000 less than asked for in department estimates.

UKIAH, Cal., Feb. 10.—An Alameda & Fort Bragg railroad train was held up this morning by two masked men. One carried a shot-gun, while the other levied tribute on the passengers.

The supposed purpose of the highwaymen was to capture the express box containing the pay roll for the Union Lumber Company, of Fort Bragg. The amount of booty secured is not yet known.

ACH MAKES PLEA FOR RUEF'S "RIGHT"

Henry Will Reply To Him Tomorrow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 10.—The auditorium echoed this afternoon with the eloquence of Henry Ach, chief counsel for Ruef, pleading with the court as if he already stood before the jury, asking for the restoration to Ruef of rights which Ach declared the defendant "was deprived of through the chicanery of the district attorney, that he might defend himself by legal means that the law affords against indictments obtained by perjury and by fraud." Ach was still talking when Judge Lawlor announced that the court would continue the matter to Wednesday, when the prosecution, probably in the person of Henry, will reply.

OAKLAND THINKS IT HAS MURDER MYSTERY

Another Skeleton Of Green Bones Dug Up.

OAKLAND, Feb. 10.—The discovery of another skeleton this afternoon in the same excavation in which workmen in Elmhurst dug up a skeleton, leads the coroner's office to believe they are on the track of a big murder mystery. The bones found today are in the same state of preservation as the others. They were located in the same hole, about two feet deeper. The sheriff has ordered deputies to make a thorough investigation. The bones found Saturday have been examined by surgeons and pronounced bones of a human being not enough decomposed to bear the theory that they are those of an ancient Indian.

MORE BODIES FOUND.

DRY-TOWN, Cal., Feb. 10.—Five more dead bodies of victims of the Fremont mine disaster were found today, and only one victim is now unaccounted for.

RICH STRIKE OF GOLD MADE BY LABORERS

While Seeking Shelter From Snow Storm They Find A Stringer Seamed With Yellow Metal On Desert.

RENO, Nev., Feb. 10.—A special from Hazen tonight says: While sheltered from a blinding snow storm, after being lost twenty-four hours, A. H. Gale and J. R. Thompson, former railroad laborers, discovered a three inch stringer seamed with gold on the desert twelve miles south of here.

Report of the find today caused 200 government reclamation employees to desert camp and rush for the scene. Hazen is likewise deserted. Gale and Thompson staked valuable ground surrounding their lodge. They told of the deposit in a local saloon, giving the public the first information of the strike.

NIGHT OF REVELRY ENDS IN TRAGEDY

Woman Shot Dead In New York Street Car.

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—A night spent in hilarity by three women and three men ended early today in a tragedy, when one woman, known as "Queenie," but who is said to be Mrs. Anna Conning of Delaware, was shot to death in a street car on Second Avenue.

Mabel Couzlie confessed this afternoon that the shot was accidentally fired from a pistol in her muff and killed "Queenie," but the police are of the opinion that an element of mystery still hangs over the case in the disappearance of the men of the party, who have not been seen since the shooting. The Couzlie woman has been held without bail to await the coroner's inquest. Rose McGuire, who was in the party, is being detained as a witness.

BADLY WANTED CHECK ARTIST IN THE TOILS

Mendenhall Arrested In Douglas and Taken To New Mexico To Answer For His Crimes.

DOUGLAS OFFICERS ARE OUT OF POCKET $100

Has Served Time In New Mexico and Honolulu Penitentiaries For Forgery.

(Special to Review.)

DOUGLAS, Feb. 10.—Although it cost them $100, Constable Shropshire and Assistant District Attorney Ross of this city landed one of the smoothest check artists who ever made his way into this portion of the United States, and he is now on his way to New Mexico to answer for crimes committed there before coming further west. The man captured was Fred Mendenhall, wanted in four different counties of New Mexico, on charges of forgery, and an ex-convict of the penitentiary in that territory, as well as in Honolulu.

Mendenhall arrived in Douglas about ten days ago, and became acquainted with Shropshire and Ross, through belonging to the same fraternal organization. He represented himself as a cattleman from Wyoming, who had driven a large herd from that state to El Paso. He stated further that he had lost part of the herd on the trip, and was informed that they had strayed in this direction. He later stated that he had received information to the effect that the cattle had been seen near Tucson, and asked the officials her to accompany him on a trip to that place. They consented, and a date was set.

Their new found friend next came to the officials, and told them in an off-hand way, that he had run out of money, and asked them to identify him, so that he could have drafts aggregating more than $100, on Montana banks cashed. They did so. After this Mendenhall did not keep his engagement, and avoided the new found friends. This made them suspicious, and they commenced an investigation, which led to his arrest.

Mendenhall was accompanied by a woman, who posed as his wife. Some days ago they quarreled, and she notified the New Mexico authorities as to his whereabouts, and W. E. Dudley, city marshal of Alamogordo, was on the road here when the man was arrested. He arrived this evening and departed with the prisoner.

While in the local jail Mendenhall admitted that he was wanted in different portions of the United States for forgery, and that he had been in the New Mexico penitentiary, as well as having served a term at Honolulu. The woman who accompanied him has disappeared since the arrest.

TOMMY BURNS KNOCKS OUT JACK PALMER

English Champion Melfless From the Start of Bout.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Tommy Burns, the American heavyweight pugilist, tonight knocked out Jack Palmer, of Newcastle the English champion, in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a 20-round contest for the championship of the world. Some 2,000 persons saw the fight, which took place in Wonderland, a big music hall. It was a one-sided affair from the first going until the middle of the fourth round, when Palmer, on his knees, was finally counted out.

Burns climbed under the ropes smilingly while Palmer displayed great nervousness. Without preliminary sparring, Burns went after him in the first round, and had hardly begun before the Englishman was on his knees. He took count twice, and during the rest of the round was busily engaged covering himself. This was repeated in each of the other rounds. Palmer being hopelessly outclassed, and apparently without ability to either deliver a telling blow or defend himself.

STRIPPED IN WALL STREET; ENDS LIFE

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Declaring that he lost a fortune in Wall street through duplicity, E. C. Brooks, who came from the west a wealthy man a few years ago, killed himself in the annex of the Produce Exchange by drinking poison. He was found unconscious on the floor by a clerk of the Exchange, and died before physicians arrived.

In the man's pockets the police found several notes, among them one in which he charges several men with being responsible for conditions which caused him to end his life. Entries in the diary indicted Brooks sustained heavy losses in the financial disaster.

One entry recorded losses of $20,000 in a single day. Within the past two days he had made application to the Exchange for employment, even asking to be put to work as a porter or laborer. He was about 50 years old.

New Jersey Saloon Keeper Protects Drunkards, Minors and the Poor

BARRETT BEHIND HIS BAR AT TOBERING

THOMAS J. BARRETT

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—"To whom it may concern:

"By the payment of wholesale and retail licenses, and compliance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, I am permitted to retail intoxicating liquors at my place of business, Roebeling, Florence township.

"To the wife who has a drunkard for a husband or friend who is unfortunately dissipated I say emphatically give me notice, in person, and all such cases shall be excluded from drinking at my place of business.

"I want it distinctly understood that I have no desire to sell to drunkards, minors or to the poor and destitute. I much prefer that they save their money and put it where it will do the most good to their families.

"There are men of honor and men of money who can afford it, and it is with these I desire to trade.

"To those who wish to trade with me and can afford it, come and you will be well treated.

"Thomas Barrett."

Thomas J. Barrett, saloonkeeper, of Roebeling, N. J., is called "the guardian angel" of the two thousand workmen who make up the population of that place. Not that all of the men in the Roebeling Company's mills need a guardian angel in human form, but those who do find one in Barrett.

Roebeling is known as the model village," and Barrett says he will maintain the reputation of the community by keeping a model hotel and saloon—one which will exclude the habitual drunkard and the men too poor to spend their money for liquor, and cater only to "men of honor who can afford it." To this end he has had printed and spread broadcast cards outlining his purpose and principles.

ROLLER LOOT MAY BE FOUND IN THIS CITY

Alleged That Officers of Southern Pacific Road Recovered Suit Cases In Bisbee Filled With Stolen Goods

(Special to the Review.)

TUCSON, Feb. 10.—Chief Special Agent M. T. Bowler, of the Southern Pacific railroad company, and Special Agent Walters, returned to this city this evening from Bisbee, where they spent a couple of days following up clues to the location of some of the merchandise which is alleged to have been stolen from freight cars on the lines by Freight Conductor J. C. Roller, of this city, in whose home on Friday night, a large amount of goods, alleged to have been stolen, were found. It is believed that the officers recovered some of the stolen property in Bisbee, but they will not make any statement for publication at the present time.

It is now believed by the railroad officers that Roller, who was a freight conductor, had been operating along the lines of stealing from box cars for a long time past, and that he had an agent to dispose of the goods. This agent was not been definitely established as yet, but it is known that one of two suit cases, containing a portion of the stolen goods was expressed from this city to Bisbee under the name of E. E. Smith. Jack Granger, also in the employ of the railroad company at this point, is a brother-in-law of Roller's, and is believed by the detectives to be the one who consigned the suit case to Bisbee.

An exhaustive investigation is being carried on and there is no doubt that everyone connected with the matter will be discovered and punished.

It is known in this city that Bowler and Walters both spent Sunday here, and that when they left the city they had the suit case which had been consigned here under the name of E. E. Smith, containing some of the goods alleged to have been stolen, in their possession. They would not make any statement as to where they had discovered the value in this city.

PLAYS WITH MATCHES, AND BURNS TO DEATH

Horrible Fate Overtakes Agua Prieta Baby.

(Special to Review.)

AGUA PRIETA, Feb. 10.—This afternoon the three year old daughter of Francisco Roman was playing with a box of matches near her home at this place, when she accidentally ignited her clothing. The little one started running home, but before she arrived at the house, the clothes had been burned from her body, and she dropped in agony. Death followed with two hours after terrible suffering.

FOUR SCALDED WHEN BOILER TUBES BURST

Accident On Cruiser St. Louis At Vallejo Supposed To Be Caused By Cold Water In Hot Pipes.

VALLEJO, Calif., Feb. 10.—The battleship on the cruiser St. Louis blew out at noon today while the vessel was off Sausalito. S. Scott, coal passer, P. Thompson, water tender, E. W. Baker, fireman, and D. Lewis, fireman, were horribly scalded with steam. News was conveyed to Mare Island by wireless and a yard tug with stretchers and four nurses and surgeons rushed to the cruiser, and brought the injured to the naval hospital.

The origin of the explosion is not known, but is supposed to have been caused by cold water running into hot pipes. It is not believed any of the injured will die. Rigid investigation is under way and a report was sent to Washington.

The St. Louis left the yard last week after extensive repairs and anchored before proceeding to Magdalena bay for target practice with the other vessels of the fleet.

suspicion, is the man, who in a fight near Dragon Pass about two months ago, shot and killed two Mexicans, who were endeavoring to steal a ride on the freight and attacked the train crew. At that time he was seriously injured, but recovered from the wound a few weeks ago.

MYSTERY FOR MONTHS SEEMS TO BE SOLVED

Body Found On Desert Believed To Be That of Herman Krutus—Adam Smith Believed To Be Guilty of Murder

Little doubt now remains that the body of the man found on the desert is the head of Babcomari Creek in Santa Cruz County about two weeks ago by two cowboys was that of Herman Krutus, the elderly German harnessmaker, who left here September 7, in a buggy with Adam Smith, intending to go on a prospecting trip in the Huachuca Mountains. The investigation made by the sheriff's office after the disappearance pointed to the fact that Krutus had been murdered by Smith, and robbed of $100 which he is known to have had on his person. When the body was found there were three holes in the forehead, where the man had been struck while alive.

When they found the body two weeks ago Robert Fenter and Joseph Titus notified the county officials, and the remains were taken into the town of Elgin nearby. The shoes found on the body were in good condition, and showed plainly that they had not been used much after having been half soled. The man wore a khaki coat, and striped trousers, as well as an overcoat.

An accurate description of the clothing was written to Sheriff Jack White by the Santa Cruz county officers, and yesterday he took the matter up with John Lisman, the shoe-maker in this city. Lisman had been well acquainted with Krutus, and stated to the sheriff that he had half-soled a pair of shoes for him a day or two before he left the city on the prospecting trip. He further stated that Krutus had worn a khaki coat and striped trousers. White has wired to Santa Cruz county for the clothes, so that within the present week the identity of the dead man will probably be established beyond doubt.

Krutus was a harness maker by trade, but on coming to the district could find no work in that line, so went to work at the Junction mine, where he was employed for about six weeks. On September 7 Adam Smith, then employed as a pump-man at the Denn-Arizona shaft, hired a horse and buggy at the Palace livery stables, and with Krutus drove down the canyon, the latter saying that he was go-

TAFT BACKS UP ROOSEVELT'S LATE MESSAGE

Tells Kansas City Hearers It Is Either End Craft Or Bow To the Wave Of Socialism.

PICTURES ROOSEVELT AS SECOND LINCOLN

Says the People Are Wide Awake To Danger From Lawless Rich.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 10.—William H. Taft, secretary of war, was given a memorable ovation by 15,000 people in Convention hall tonight, when he was the guest of honor and principal speaker at the most elaborate banquet ever attempted in this city. It was given by an association of young Republicans of Missouri, and attended by 1200 persons, many of whom came from Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and distant Missouri cities. The demonstration accorded Taft when he entered the banquet hall, and again when he rose to speak, has never been surpassed by any welcome given any public man in the history of this war.

Each of the 1200 banquetters paid $2.50 for the privilege of attending, but the balconies and hall were free to the public. Long before the speaking began standing room in the hall was at a premium.

Taft's speech was a general defense of the Republican party, especially the policies brought to the fore by the administration of Roosevelt. In eulogizing Lincoln, he spoke of him as a man who was a party man, as all men must be who expect to leave their individual impress upon the political character of the nation. Speaking of the recent panic and the president's late special message to congress, the secretary said:

"The message contains the answer to charges made that the administration is responsible for industrial depression. The sharpness and emphasis with which the secretary has met heartened the great body of people as a bugle call to support the policies of the administration. We are passing into a regime of responsible plutocracy. During the last four years there has been a great moral awakening to the danger among the people, and the popular demand is that law breakers, no matter how wealthy or how high or powerful in position, shall be made to suffer. Under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican party has not faltered in its determination to meet the requirement of the situation, and to enact such legislation as may be necessary to bring to a close this period of illegitimate corporate immunity."

In concluding, Secretary Taft said: "Vigorous action on measures to stamp out the existing abuses and effect reforms is necessary to vindicate society as at present constituted. Otherwise we must yield to those who seek to introduce the new order of things on the socialist basis. Roosevelt leads his party as Lincoln led his—as McKinley led his—as Grant led his. Under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican party has not faltered in its determination to meet the requirement of the situation, and to enact such legislation as may be necessary to bring to a close this period of illegitimate corporate immunity."

Herbert S. Hadley, attorney general of Missouri, responded to the toast: "We have put our hand to the plow."

ASK ROAD TO EXPLAIN.

GUTHRIE, Okla., Feb. 10.—The corporation commission has ordered the Santa Fe railroad to appear before them and explain why they ordered the recent retrenchment in train service, cutting off four trains on the main line. Protesters have received from Oklahoma City and other towns.

JAPS ARE PUZZLED.

TOKIO, Feb. 10.—The fresh crop of sensational war reports, chiefly emanated in New York, being cabled as special to Tokio, are creating unrest in the minds of the Japanese public, the people being unable to explain the continued chauvinism of America.

ing on a prospecting trip in the Huachuca.

The horse and buggy was not returned the next day, and the sheriff's office was notified.
